Vintner's Notes

Three Witches is a dry, white, old-world blend of three grapes. It's made with Sauvignon Blanc; a green-skinned grape nicknamed "wild white" for its appetizingly crisp character and Sémillon; a golden-toned grape with a big mouth feel. We add the unexpected dry Gewurztraminer; a pink-skinned grape which lifts tropical fruit and floral aromatics. Crisp enough for the patio, smooth enough for a cocktail party and dry enough for a dinner wine, this engaging, versatile wine conjures crowd approval.

Winemaker's Notes

These late-budding and early-ripening varieties excel in our cooler climate and these three components create a balanced, versatile wine with 50% Sauvignon Blanc, 35% Pinot Gris, and 15% Gewürztraminer. Sauvignon Blanc brings great acid balance with its green notes, the Pinot Gris adds refreshing citrus flavour and zesty acidity and the Gewürztraminer brings a spicy edge with its sweet fruit and florals. This blend has great balance of richness and freshness – a beautiful sipping wine and a match for the dinner table.

Tasting Notes

A bewitching harmony of citrus, green apple, peach, tropical fruit like papaya, and aromatic floral elements give way to a creaminess on the palate with a refreshingly balanced finish. Enjoy thyme, gooseberry and flinty mineral notes in a medium – light body wine with a zesty finish.

Pairing Notes

Try nut-based cheese as well as heart of hemp Morbier or aqua fava Brie. Fresh vegetables, yellow squash, parsnip, white beans, roasted cauliflower, marinated kale and fruit elements of lemons, oranges, peaches or apricots. Harmonize with herb-driven or even vinegar based sauces, sweet fennel, asparagus and butternut squash soup. Risotto, pesto on pasta, taco verde, fried tofu, heart of palm and pasta salad are all great. Anything with a bit of oil or salt, so kettle chips are perfect.
